

REVO.

The art of design, The science of acoustics

Driven by functionality and quality, our products combine the highest design principles with the latest digital audio technology – crafted to make a lasting impression and stand the test of time.

Founded in 2004 in Lanark, Scotland, REVO is a pioneer in digital radio and audio streaming. The unique design development of REVO has been shaped by numerous RedDot and iF product design awards.

From 2020 to 2023, the REVO brand was owned by TELESTAR-DIGITAL GmbH.

In early 2024, it was acquired by the COMMAXX GROUP, where it continues to thrive under their careful stewardship, reflecting the group's commitment to quality and integrity.

REVO products are sold worldwide.

The Housing

The handmade wooden casing, made of American walnut wood (FSC certified), was chosen for its excellent acoustic properties, as wood has a resonance quality that cannot be achieved by plastics or composite materials. The use of high-quality anodized T6 aluminium for the front panel, speaker grille and rear panel, as well as an oversized CNC-milled aluminium volume control provides a soothing tactile experience and sense of integrity that cannot be achieved with less high-quality materials. The physical design is completed by a detailed graphical OLED display and a joystick control, which add a touch of modernity and user-friendliness, perfectly complementing the beautiful aesthetics.
